

Advanced Standing

Students who have done exceptionally well in high school, taken college preparatory courses, or gained knowledge in some other way may receive college credit if they can demonstrate their knowledge and ability by examination. Students who have taken college courses at other accredited institutions of higher learning may also enter Lyon with advanced standing.