

BIO 100 : Biology in Context

Study of the basic principles and unifying concepts of biology. Emphasis is placed on how biology increasingly plays a role in our everyday lives. Topics include organization of living matter, metabolism, reproduction, genetics, ecology and evolution. The course consists of both lecture and laboratory components. Cannot be counted toward biology major.

Credits 4