

BUS 302: Governance, Business, and Society

The course involves analyses of the intersection of government, business, law, and society. Policies, ethics, and the maintenance and regulation of competition at the local, national, and global levels are explored in relation to how organizations are governed – internally and externally.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites: BUS 210