

CSC 255 : Computer Architecture

Introduction to computer organization and the basic structure of a modern programmable computer. Topics covered include the von Neumann architecture, the CPU, pipelining, memory hierarchy, assembly/ machine language, and the basic laws underlying performance evaluation.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

CSC 240 and CSC 245