

ECO 101: Principles of Economics I

An introduction to economics with an emphasis on the fundamentals of economic principles and current economic policy issues. Topics include scarcity of resources, production and consumption, international trade, supply and demand, taxes, welfare state, poverty, income inequality, economic output of an economy, price level, inflation, unemployment, long-run determinants of economic growth, and financial systems.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites: MTH 101 Or MTH 103