Military Science

The Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) is a series of elective college courses, taken in conjunction with a full load of academic courses. Participation in ROTC instruction in leadership and management helps students develop discipline, physical stamina, and confidence. The ROTC program augments the Lyon College's strategic goals by emphasizing academic excellence and the development of personal integrity, honor, and responsibility.

Military Science Concentration

Military Science Instructor: Jerry Bowling

The Military Science and Leadership (MSL) concentration is offered in conjunction with the affiliate Reserve Officers Training Corp (ROTC) program at Lyon College and offers a pathway to commissioning as an officer in the U.S. Army (active duty), the U.S. Army Reserve (USAR) or the Army National Guard. The eight MSL courses required for contracted cadets will generate a total of 18 credit hours toward their undergraduate degree, and provide military career preparation in the areas of leadership, soldiering, and the roles and uses of the armed forces.

MSL 150

MSL 150: Military Science Lab

This course will allow students to practice and hone the skills learned in the classroom. The primary focus will be on the proper execution of battle drills while allowing ample opportunities to exercise and develop leadership skills. At the conclusion of this course, the student will be able to plan, coordinate, navigate, motivate, and lead a platoon in future operational environments. Since Lab 150 is repeatable it would count for activity credits toward graduation requirements as determined by the course catalog. This class must be taken in conjunction with any other course from the MSL series of classes. Repeatable for credit.

MSL 201: Leadership and Decision Making

Focuses on leadership and decision making. The course adds depth to the Cadets understanding of the Adaptability Army Learning Area. The outcomes are demonstrated through Critical and Creative Thinking and the ability to apply Troop Leading Procedures (TLP) to apply Innovative Solutions to Problems. The Army Profession is also stressed through leadership forums and a leadership self- assessment. Students are then required to apply their knowledge outside the classroom in a hands-on performance-oriented environment during a weekly lab facilitated by MSL III Cadets and supervised by Cadre.
